

How This Kochi Bakers Fixed Field Sales Confusion & Order Delays with Effortless

Manual Sales Processes Slowing Growth & Deliveries

This bakery relied on sales reps taking orders manually across multiple cities, using paper notes and WhatsApp. With no real-time tracking or structured customer assignment, orders were often delayed or duplicated. The lack of visibility created bottlenecks, slowing growth and frustrating customers.

Key Challenges

- ▲ Manual order-taking created frequent errors and delays
- ▲ No real-time tracking of reps, orders, or delivery status
- ▲ Territory overlaps led to customer assignment confusion
- ▲ Admin bottlenecks slowed fulfillment handoffs
